

JOB ANNOUNCEMENT

Position: Clinic Coordinator (Non-detained)

Program: Immigrants' Rights - Building Bridges to Empower Immigrants Pod

Reports to: Immigrants' Rights Supervising or Managing Attorney

Bargaining Unit: Yes

FLSA: Non-Exempt

Type: Full Time

Position Summary

Centro Legal's Immigrants' Rights practice is focused on serving the needs of our most vulnerable community members, including families living in poverty, unaccompanied minors, survivors of violent crimes, survivors of domestic and sexual violence, and detained individuals in removal proceedings. We offer comprehensive, full-service direct representation to our clients before the immigration courts, USCIS, and federal courts, as well as provide legal rights education and client intake through our various immigration clinics. We specialize in detained and non-detained removal defense with a heavy emphasis on asylum and Special Immigrant Juvenile Status (SIJS), family-based visa petitions, U visas for victims of violent crime, and naturalization. The team has a robust pro bono practice, working with private law firms and other corporations to coordinate pro bono legal clinics and mentoring attorneys who provide full scope, pro bono representation to Centro Legal's clients.

Primary Responsibilities

The immigrants' rights clinic coordinator will provide direct support to our immigrants' rights team, specifically working with our pro bono partners. Primary duties will include:

- Communicating directly with law firm pro bono counsel to schedule and coordinate logistics of pro bono immigration clinics, after consultation with managing/supervising attorney regarding team and community needs;
- Coordinating all elements of immigration pro bono clinics, including by maintaining wait lists, screening and communicating with clinic clients, and coordinating clinic logistics;
- Under attorney supervision, assuming primary responsibility for compiling and filing applications to USCIS and in Immigration Court, monitoring the progress of pending clinic client cases, and following up as needed;
- Maintaining physical and electronic case files (including in-person file management provided it is safe to do so), closing cases upon conclusion, and diligently logging case activity and clinics in case management system;
- Coordinating in-house clinics for Centro Legal's Immigrants' Rights team, as needed; and
- Performing other clinic-related duties as assigned by supervisor and as needed by the pro bono clinical program.

Secondary Responsibilities

Depending on the clinic coordinator's capacity and experience, additional responsibilities may include:

- Assisting immigration attorneys in immigration legal representation for qualified individuals, including by supporting the casework of pro bono partner attorneys;
- Coordinating and monitoring additional networks of pro bono partners, such as mental health evaluation providers or volunteer interpreters;
- Working directly with clients and community members (both remote and in-person, provided it is safe to do so) to: conduct initial legal intakes, complete necessary paperwork and document collection, develop declarations and other evidence in support of their cases, maintain communication regarding case status, and respond to client communications;
- Providing Spanish-English interpretation and translation in all aspects of immigration legal representation, including relay interpretation with Indigenous language interpreters;
- Preparing USCIS and state court forms and other legal filings for attorney review;
- Filing legal documents in various courts and agencies in the East Bay and San Francisco (including in-person filing provided it is safe to do so);
- Writing letters to companies, institutions, and government agencies to assist clients in obtaining police reports, court records, medical records, and school records (and conduct necessary follow-up as needed); and
- Performing other special projects and other duties as assigned.

Qualifications

First and foremost, the applicant must profoundly share Centro Legal's mission and vision of racial, economic, and social justice. Qualifications include:

- A Bachelor's degree, or associate's degree combined with relevant experience, is required;
- Fluency in Spanish is required;
- Excellent word-processing and computer skills, including knowledge of Microsoft Word and Excel and Google Suite;
- Must be well organized, efficient, highly motivated, able to handle multiple tasks at once, work well under pressure, and take initiative;
- Must have outstanding written, verbal and interpersonal skills, superb attention to detail, and excellent phone manner;
- Ability to work independently as well as within a team;
- Willingness to conduct training and outreach activities in the community;
- Experience working with low-income, immigrant, and monolingual Spanish-speaking communities; and
- Strong commitment to serving low-income and underserved communities, with an ability to relate to and communicate with a broad range of clients and colleagues.
- In-office work, travel via public transportation, and community work is required, in accordance with public health guidelines.
- Additional desired qualifications:
 - Experience in immigration law, and removal defense specifically

- Experience coordinating legal clinics or other events

Compensation and Benefits

Salary is competitive and commensurate with experience ranging from $24.13-$29.59 per hour. We provide a generous benefits package, including life insurance, LTD, leave policies, vacation, and December holiday office closure at full pay.

To Apply

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. Applicants should apply without delay. To apply, send a brief cover letter, resume, and list of three professional references by email to jobs@centrolegal.org, with the subject line, “Immigrants’ Rights Clinic Coordinator - non-detained.”
