About Centro Legal de la Raza

Founded in 1969 and headquartered in Oakland, California, Centro Legal de la Raza (Centro Legal) is a comprehensive legal services and advocacy organization protecting and advancing the rights of immigrant and low-income communities of color through multilingual representation, education, and advocacy. We envision a world where all people enjoy dignity, respect and the freedom to move; where the most marginalized voices lead movements for change; where migration builds bridges; where communities remain together; where all people find safety; and where carceral systems are abolished. We ground our work in principles of anti-racism, community and movement lawyering, and intersectionality.

Centro Legal's Abolishing Immigration Detention (AID) team, which sits within the Immigrants' Rights Project, works to dismantle racist and inequitable policies at the intersection of the criminal and immigration legal systems through high-quality direct legal services and litigation, advocacy and organizing, and community empowerment and know-your-rights education. We believe that following the leadership of people most directly impacted by immigration detention, and uplifting the demands of the most marginalized and criminalized people in detention—including Black migrants, people with disabilities, and queer and transgender individuals—holds the key to our collective liberation.

Finally, we are committed to building a diverse team that reflects the values and experiences of the communities we serve. We strive to create an inclusive and supportive work environment that rejects the same harmful dynamics of power oppression we fight in court and in the streets.
